2007 SWATCH-FIVB U-21 World Championships

The SWATCH-FIVB World Championships for players under 21 years old returns Europe for the fifth-time as Italy hosts the seventh annual event September 5-9 in Modena. A main draw will determine the 24 teams that will be spread across six pools to battle it out for the title in a pool-play competition format. Located in the northwest province of Emilia Romagna, Modena is known as "the capital of engines" as the city houses the factories of most famous Italian car makers like De Tomaso, Ferrari, Lamborghini, Pagani, and Maserati. Modena is the birthplace of the operatic tenor Luciano Pavarotti, and is also well known in culinary circles for its production of balsamic vinegar. Modena is also considered the capital city of Italian volleyball thanks to the perennial success of the Panini Modena team.

QUALIFICATION FOR THE GAMES
XXIX OLYMPIAD, BEIJING 2008
Chaoyang Park Beach Volleyball Ground
Saturday, August 9 through Friday, August 22
Women's Medal Matches - August 21
Men's Medal Matches - August 22

The Beach Volleyball qualification period runs from January 1, 2007 to July 20, 2008 with 24 team vacancies available for each gender. By July 21, 2008, the FIVB will establish an Olympic Ranking based on the best eight performances of teams in recognized Olympic Qualification tournaments (SWATCH FIVB World Tour events, SWATCH FIVB World Championships, FIVB recognized Continental Championship Finals). China will automatically qualify as host country, the top 23 teams from each gender will qualify for Beijing 2008, subject to a maximum of two teams per country. In order to respect the universality principle of the Olympic Games, if a continent does not have any teams qualified after the above procedure is applied, the 23rd place will be occupied by the highest-ranked eligible team from the continent in question.

The FIVB has confirmed the European Championship Finals in 2007 at Valencia, Spain (August 23-26) and 2008 in Hamburg, Germany (July 10-13) as part of the Beijing 2008 Olympic Qualification Process. Only the best of the two European Championship may be considered as one of the team's best eight performances during the Beach Volleyball qualification period from January 1, 2007 to July 20, 2008.

FÉDÉRATION INTERNATIONALE DE VOLLEYBALL

FIVB - Located in Lausanne, Switzerland, The FIVB is the International Organization responsible for all forms of Volleyball on a global level. Working closely with National Federations and private enterprises, the FIVB promotes Volleyball competitions and development activities as entertainment and promotional factors for the enjoyment of spectators and participants while satisfying sponsors' needs. Dr. Rubén Acosta Hernandez of Mexico is the FIVB President.

FIVB mission - The FIVB governs, manages and communicates all forms of Volleyball and Beach Volleyball worldwide. It aims to develop Volleyball as a major world media and entertainment sport through world class planning and organization of competitions, marketing and promotional activities.

The new era - The new era commenced in 1984 when FIVB moved to Lausanne, Switzerland and elected a new President, who envisaged a marketing strategy with new competitions aimed at consolidating FIVB's brand identity and world class profile. As a result, The FIVB is now the largest sports organization in the world in terms of its 218 member National Federations, operating at continental level through five Confederations based in Africa, Asia, Europe, North and Central America, and South America. Under FIVB guidance, these entities provide opportunities to Volleyball and Beach Volleyball event organizers, sponsors, TV broadcasters and over 500 million participating athletes world-wide.

Secure in its future - The FIVB is governed by its own Constitution and Regulations under Swiss law and operates from Lausanne in a villa fully equipped and resourced with the latest technologies. Secure in its operations for at least the next decade, the FIVB is in a position to provide effective leadership to Volleyball athletes and stakeholders. Under the financial control of an accountant certified by the Swiss government, the FIVB is audited every year by one of the world's leading auditing firms

FIVB today - One of the top three global International Sporting Federations, The FIVB provides leadership to 500-million players and 33-million licensed athletes from 218 affiliated National Federations. Partnering with up to 100 Event Organizers and TV Broadcasters annually, the FIVB is the worldwide leader in innovative 'new generation' sports entertainment and awards over US$ 25-million in Prize Money every year.

The FIVB structure - As The FIVB's basic platform and comprising all affiliated National Federations, the World Congress is the supreme authority. Convened every two years, the Congress elects the President and members of the Board. The Board of Administration is responsible for the overall management of the FIVB, overseeing the work of the National Federations, Confederations, Commissions and Councils and appoints Officials, including members of the Executive Committee.

- The Executive Committee is composed of Board members and each member is charged with important and specific responsibilities.
- The FIVB President is personally accountable before the Congress and the Board of Administration whose decisions he is responsible for executing and is supported by the Executive Committee members.
- National Federations are responsible for Volleyball in their respective countries.
- The Continental Confederations, Councils and Commissions are supporting institutions of FIVB actions in their area and are accountable before the FIVB for the fulfillment of their duties in accordance with FIVB regulations and decisions.
- FIVB Technical Officials represent the FIVB world wide in its global operations. They supervise and participate in the organisation of events, ensuring that event organizers deliver world class conditions to sponsors and participants.

2007 SWATCH-FIVB WORLD TOUR FACT SHEET - HISTORY

THE FIVB - The seeds of the International Volleyball Federation (FIVB) were sown at a meeting in the Graf Coffee House in Prague when the Polish, French and (then) Czechoslovak Volleyball Federations discussed declarations of support from the Italian, Yugoslav, Romanian, and Belgian Federations suggesting an "autonomous Volleyball commission". Subsequently, the organization of a first Constitutive Congress was entrusted to the President of the French Volleyball Federation, Paul Libaud, and it took place in Paris April 18-20, 1947 with the participation of 14 Federations. The FIVB was born! Libaud was elected first President of the FIVB shortly afterwards and the headquarters were established in Paris, where they remained for the first 37 years until 1984. The first World Championships were organized in 1949 for men and in 1952 for women and have since remained the biggest event in Volleyball. In 1957 the International Olympic Committee (IOC) included Volleyball as a medal sport in the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo while Beach Volleyball made its Olympic debut at the 1996 Atlanta Games. A big turning point for the FIVB came in 1984 when President Libaud, by then in his late 70's and highly acclaimed for having founded the Federation and making it a significant reality on the world sports stage, resigned. Dr. Rubén Acosta Hernandez was elected new President to succeed him at the World Congress in Long Beach, California. The FIVB moved its headquarters to Lausanne, Switzerland the same year bringing it closer to the IOC. Very soon after Dr. Acosta became Volleyball's ambassador, promoting the sport in worldwide competitions held in the five Confederations (Asia, Africa, Europe, South America and Norceca).

BEACH VOLLEYBALL - Born in the depression days of the 1920s on the sandy beaches of Santa Monica, California, Beach Volleyball has become a multi million-dollar extravaganza and an Olympic sport that has captivated players in more than 90 countries. From those first matches, the game caught on 10 years later in France, Bulgaria, the Czech Republic and Latvia before slotting perfectly into the Californian lifestyle in the 1950s and the pulsating 1960s, taking its place alongside surfing. The United States and Brazil played a major role in transforming "Beach" into a professional sport in the 1970s and 1980s, but it was the hard work of the FIVB President Dr. Rubén Acosta and Beach Volleyball stars such as Sinjin Smith, Karch Kiraly and Randy Stoklos that helped establish Beach Volleyball internationally in the 1980s and 1990s and become a full medal sport at the Atlanta 1996 Olympic Games. At the same time the FIVB Beach Volleyball International Circuit evolved from the World Series to the World Tour and exploded in popularity in Europe, Latin America and Asia. The 2004 and 2005 SWATCH-FIVB World Tour boasted more than 50 major events encompassing Europe, Africa, Asia and the Americas with over US $12-million in prize money.

2007 SWATCH-FIVB WORLD TOUR FACTS

SWATCH-FIVB World Tour - From 1989 when the first international Beach Volleyball Tour called the World Series was unleashed in Rio de Janeiro, the circuit has undergone two name changes and a makeover to become a series of "dynamic" global sporting events each year. From the beginning in 1989 of three legs of men's competition in Brazil, Italy and Japan involving 40 athletes from seven countries, the international Beach Volleyball Tour introduced women's play three years later before the world-wide circuit was revitalized and the World Championship Series was born in 1995. At that point legs and prize money stood at 17 and US$2.4-million, respectively, thus prompting the transformation into the now famous World Tour. The SWATCH-FIVB World Tour embraced 22 stops split between men and women in 2003 with over 700 athletes from more than 50 countries and a record prize money pool nearing US$5-million, including Grand Slam stops in Berlin, Marseille, Klagenfurt and Los Angeles. The 2004 season featured 27 "major" tournaments (15 men and 12 women), with US$5.48-million in prize money, a three-leg Grand Slam (Berlin, Marseille and Klagenfurt), plus the Athens 2004 Olympics Games where 24 men's and 24 women's teams competed for the gold medals won by Emanuel Rego/Ricardo Santos of Brazil and Misty May/Kerri Walsh of the United States. The 2005 season also broke records with close to $7.7-million in prize money distributed for all events, including 31 "open" and 25 challenger/satellite stops.

OLYMPIC BEACH VOLLEYBALL - The SWATCH-FIVB World Tour during the 1992 and 1993 season was, in a way, the beginning of the sports' Olympic era. After the 1992 Barcelona Games, a beach volleyball event was played in Almeria, Spain, as post-Olympic demonstration sport. In addition to being the first-ever women's international event, the tournament was the first step in getting the sport entered in the Olympics. The United States won both men's (Sinjin Smith/Randy Stoklos) and women's (Karolyn Kirby/Nancy Reno) titles. In February, 1993, International Olympic Committee (IOC) President Juan Antonio Samarach, along with Atlanta Committee Olympic Games President Billy Payne and other IOC members attended the FIVB Beach Volleyball Finals in Rio de Janeiro. There they saw the excitement that the sport could generate as over 140,000 fans jammed the stadium for the one-week tournament. As a result, the most important event in the history of beach volleyball occurred on September 24, 1993. On that day, at the 101st IOC session in Monte Carlo, the sport of beach volleyball was admitted as a medal discipline for the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta, Georgia. The sport had reached its Olympic era.

ECO FRIENDLY BEACH VOLLEYBALL! - The FIVB and Global Sports Alliance have joined forces for the third year to help raise environment awareness through sport. The ecoflag symbolizes the commitment to the environment of sports-lovers and everyone who knows the importance and irreplaceable nature of the water, air and greenery that surrounds us. The SWATCH-FIVB World Tour event in Gstaad, Switzerland is setting the example by players using bicycles for local transport in the picturesque alpine town! Hop, Step and Jump to a better environment GSA's, approach to the environmental problem is unique and practical:

- First (Hop) is promoting awareness through the Ecoflag. "We can enjoy volleyball because of clean air and water, thus the environment. Let's make sure that we keep the environment clean for future generations."
- Second (Step) is promoting the spontaneous actions on the environment. The GSA has introduced advanced initiatives on sports and environmental issues, such as asking sport fans to take spontaneous actions on the environment. They make this introduction through the 2003 Global Forum for Sports and Environment in Tokyo where FIVB president Dr. Rubén Acosta received the Prince Takamondo Memorial Prize for environmental excellence.
- Third (Jump) is spreading this awareness and actions to the 1 billion sport enthusiasts around the world.

SWATCH-FIVB WORLD TOUR GRAND SLAMS

Highlighted by Gstaad's hosting the SWATCH-FIVB World Championships, the 2007 SWATCH-FIVB World Tour will host feature Grand Slam events in Paris, Stavanger, Berlin and Klagenfurt this season. The SWATCH-FIVB World Tour returns to Berlin after missing from the 2006 schedule due to Germany's hosting of the World Cup. A total of 29 men's and 44 women's teams competed in all four "Grand Slam" events in 2006. Reigning Olympic and 2003 World Champions Emanuel Rego and Ricardo Santos joined Brazilian teammates Juliana Felisberta Silva and Larissa Franca in winning two Grand Slam titles in 2006. Emanuel and Ricardo captured the first two 2006 grand slams in Gstaad and Stavanger before placing third in Paris and second in Klagenfurt. After losing to reigning Olympic and two-time World Champions Misty May-Treanor and Kerri Walsh in Gstaad, Juliana and Larissa won their 2006 Grand Slam titles in Stavanger and Paris before placing second in Klagenfurt.
